

Art Activity 2: Home-style Cooking Extravaganza

“Katani didn’t get home until right before dinner. When she did, her whole family was in the kitchen, even her sister Candice, who was home for a few days from college. They were all working together to make a salad, with everyone doing their part. Kelley was hard at work making garlic bread—her favorite.”

Cooking can really bring a family together. When everyone contributes something, the meal just tastes better. Put together a family cookbook of classic recipes—the best recipes—that you have in your household. Have everyone suggest what they like the best or something they are good at. Put the book together and save it forever.
